

- Establish difference between breeding and production. This is important to resolve possible conflicts of interest. More important in Cattle compared to pigs.

Structure

hierarchical
pig

breed	breed
produce	produce

monolithic
cattle

- In monolithic breeding program, the value of older animals is different with respect to the potential use
 - breeding → young animals are more valuable
 - production → older animals are most valuable as long as they are healthy.